PGALinks Becomes PGA.org Met PGA Working on a New Look as Well

The PGA of America went live with their new web site during the PGA Show and has rebranded the member site as PGA.org. The new home of the Association will feature more customization for the member users and obviously there will be a period to get used to finding information you are seeking in different spots. PGALinks will remain a live site for a bit longer but professionals should begin to familiarize themselves with PGA.org during the next month.

The Met PGA is also in the process of redesigning the Section web site and incorporating the Directory into an online version with up to the minute change capability. We will continue to update everyone on this change as we move into March and then hopefully be ready for a full launch by the Spring Meeting.

Westchester County Golf Show Canceled for 2015

The Journal News is poised to take over the administration and direction of the Westchester County Golf Show but that will have to wait as the Show "won't go on" in 2015. Because of scheduling issues with the Knick D-League team, and their desire to make an impact with a new look and feel to the Golf Show, the organizers have decided to wait until 2016 to re-launch the Show.

Three Programs Highlight Met PGA Winter Educational Series Schedule for February

Our Winter Education Series has been a success thus far with over 50 in attendance at each of the first two programs. We already have a strong turnout for the Thursday program in New York City at Drive 495, where Joe and Don Saladino mixed fitness and golf training at this SOHO location. Thursday, Feb. 5th from 10 – noon, the title of the presentation will be Building Performance Through a Holistic Approach. Don Saladino, owner and strength conditioning coach will discuss their approach and overview. Mark Braziller, PGA will explain how training programs have increased his students results and Steve Macari, the Holistic Lifestyle Coach will focus on how lifestyle and nutrition affect performance.

On Feb. 12th from 2:00 pm – 4:00 pm, Brian Crowell and Michael Breed will be presenting at GlenArbor on Creating Value Through Effective Communication. Click here to register

On Feb. 26th, Fresh Meadow will host a presentation by Jeff Warne of The Bridge and Sarah Stone of Trump from 10 noon on How to Gross Your Lesson Book. Click here to register

We finish the Winter Education Series in March with a March 5th offering at Huntington Country Club entitled The Composite Swing / Teaching with Observation vs. Teaching with Data with Rock Hill's Michael Jacobs as our featured presenter. The finale will be March 12th at Westchester Country Club from 10 am to noon, with Westchester's John Kennedy and Tom Henderson of Round Hill speaking on How to be an Asset to your Facility and How to Grow as a Professional. Special Awards Committee Requests Nominations for 2015

The Past Presidents are now requesting nominations for consideration of the 2015 Special Awards. Professionals may nominate themselves or another PGA Member. Click here for the Nomination Form that is reviewed by the Special Awards Committee (it is also on the web site). The Committee hopes to meet by early-March to start the review process as the final selections must be submitted to the PGA of America no later than March 30th this year.. Please submit your suggested nominations no later than March 1st.

Tournament Schedule Posted – But Be Aware – It is Tentative

The 2015 schedule has been posted but PLEASE – realize that this is subject to change and revisions so while we offer it to help you with your facility planning, just make sure you keep checking for updates and realize that changes are inevitable and anticipated.

Deadline for Completion of PGA Compensation Survey is March 23rd

Now is the time to complete the 2015 PGA Golf Professional Compensation Survey. Your participation ensures that our Section's compensation information is valid and meaningful. Members who complete the survey by March 23rd, 2015, can receive up to two (2) MSR credits (maximum 5 survey credits per MSR cycle). Your participation assists your fellow members and your own efforts to make sure the information shared with employers and professionals is accurate and significant. All individual responses are completely confidential. Click here to get to the 2015 PGA Compensation Survey.

Partners and Sponsors Are Center Stage at PGA Show Met Section Scores in Short Game Challenge

We had some good feedback from our Partners and Sponsors at the PGA Show and will be looking forward to using our March and April Newsletters to promote the many companies from the golf industry who continue to support the Met PGA and support our professionals. Thanks to all of our members who took the time to say thank you and extend their appreciation to our 2014 Partners and Sponsors at the PGA Show.

A special thanks also to the professionals who competed in the Short Game Challenge at the PGA Show along-side the Equipment Testing Center. The Met PGA was rewarded with a 2nd place finish on Thursday that earned us $1,500.00. In all, 15 of our professionals took the time to enter and compete.

January Schedule of Winter Championships Features Senior Events

The PGA Winter Championships have moved through January with the completion of the Quarter Century Championship, the Senior Stroke Play and the Senior-Junior Championship. Events are presented this year by Golf Advisor, Premier Golf and GOLFADVISOR.

In the Quarter Century Championship only five Met PGA Members were able to cash a check in the first event of the Winter Championships. Sleepy Hollow's David Young tied for 5th place in Group 1 while Dan Tzivannis of Rolling Hills and Pelham's Mike Diffley tied for 10th place in Group 2 and Old Oaks' Bobby Heins was tied for 7th in Group 3. Among the more senior professionals in the Groups 4-9, only Mal Galletta Jr. of Engineers was able to earn a payday with a tie for 8th place in Group 5.

In the Senior Stroke Play, the Met PGA made a stronger impression, highlighted by several top finishes. In Group 1 (50-54) Craig Thomas of Metropolis (9th) cashed a check while in Group 2, Pelham's Mike Diffley was runner-up with rounds of 72-73-67. Bruce Zabriski of Westchester CC also cashed a check in a tie for 10th. In Group 3, Bobby Heins also enjoyed a runner-up finish with rounds of 67-65-71 as the top 4 finishers were all Met Section alum (Mike San Filippo 1st), Kevin Morris (3rd) and Jerry Impellittere (4th). In Group 5, Mal Galletta Jr. and Bob Dickson shared the honors as the low finishers with 213 totals and Galletta firing rounds of 72-72-69. Our final player to notch a paycheck was Bob Joyce in 5th place in Group 6 (75-79).

The Senior-Junior Championship has normally been dominated by the Met Section and while 2015 produced a Met PGA winner only six professionals finished in the money., including the 2015 Champion Colin Amaral of Metropolis who teamed with South Florida's Lee Rinker to post rounds of 64-66-65-65 260 and win by a stroke at 28 under par. Charlie Meola of Saxon Woods teamed with former Met PGA Professional Jerry Impellittere to finish in a tie for 8th place while Tam O'Shanter's Mark Brown partnered with Jeff Coston of New England in 10th place. The team of Dan Tzivannis of Rolling Hills and Pete Catanzaro of Scarsdale were in a tie for 20th place, along with the team of Ryan Kalista of Tamarack and his partner Pete Oakley of Palm City, Florida.

PGA Financial Assistance Fund Scholarship Program Deadline is March 15th

PGA Members with children (or grandchildren) in their senior year of high school or in college may apply for these academic based scholarships from the PGA of America's Financial Assistance Fund. Students must carry a 3.4 GPA as well as including their other activities and their transcript with the Scholarship Application. Again in 2015, 20% of the funding will take into account financial need and beginning with last year's 2014 graduating high school seniors (incoming freshman in the Fall of 2014), the total number of scholarships a student can receive will be limited to 2 total scholarships over the 4 years of undergraduate college attendance. For more on the need portion of the application, please see details in Financial Needs Section of the application. The deadline date for receipt of the application and transcripts is March 15th directed to Caroline Blackwood of the PGA Foundation. For questions or further information, contact Caroline at 1 888-532-6662 or by email to cblackwood@pgahq.com. Applications are reviewed at the PGA HQ and recipients are announced in May.

LPGA and US Kids Announce Award Winners at PGA Show

As we had announced previously and added to the web site, Angela Aulenti, head professional of Sterling Farms and one of our most decorated professionals was honored by the LPGA during their awards ceremonies when she was presented the Nancy Lopez Lifetime Achievement Award. The award recognizes an LPGA Member who reflects the qualities valued by Lopez: leadership, passion, giving and approachability.

Aulenti also was honored by US Kids Golf as one of their Top 50 Kids Teachers from the Class of 2014. Other Met PGA Members to share that distinction were Michael Bulger of The Patterson Club, Joe DiDomenico of Pelham Country Club and Jason Peterson of Country Club of New Canaan. We are also proud to announce that Kammy Maxfeldt of Birchwood Country Club was our lone PGA Member to earn the distinction as one of the Master Kids Teachers by US Kids Golf in the Class of 2014.

Condolences

We extend our deepest sympathies to Fairway & Greene's Terry Murphy on the passing of his mother right before the PGA Show. As Terry said – she was a Great Mom and a Great Lady!

Newest PGA Certified Professional

Congratulations to Ian Orr on achieving PGA Certification in Teaching & Coaching recently. Ian has been on the staff of John Kennedy at Westchester Country Club since 2008 after his graduation from Coastal Carolina. Ian is the newest member of this elite group of professionals to achieve PGA certification.

Best Wishes for a Speedy Recovery

For legendary professional, Billy Farrell, this has been a brutally difficult last couple of months. Billy had a double knee replacement only to develop complications and an infection. The knee replacements had to be reversed and Billy had to fight through a battle of pneumonia. He is now getting his strength back and is hopefully on the road to recovery at Greenwich Hospital waiting for the chance to go back and replace the knees. We send Billy our very best..... We also were sorry to hear that Mike Turnesa, teaching professional last year at Mohansic and at Westview also had a mishap back in November and underwent surgery on Dec. 10th but hopes to be back on his feet again by the start of the golf season.

KPMG Women's PGA Championship at Westchester Country Club on June 11th – 14th

The Met PGA had a great meeting recently with between 15 and 20 of our women professionals meeting with the tournament staff and chairs of the KPMG Women's PGA Championship to discuss how our Section can assist with this year's event. The newest "major" on the LPGA Tour schedule will provide plenty of opportunities for our professionals to be front and center and to support the championship. We will need our professionals to be involved and just as importantly, we need to ask them to get their golfers involved to make this event a success. Keep an eye out for the various volunteer opportunities and ticket promotions for you and your golfers.

PerformanceTrak Participation Remains a Priority

It is hard to understand why more of our head professionals are not participating in PGA PerformanceTrak. The information gathered on a monthly basis is critically important to our professionals and to their employers and our facilities. Data is such an important element to clubs and courses in their marketing and business operations and we want to encourage all of our head professionals to sign on to this reporting tool and at the very least submit figures of rounds of golf for the upcoming year. PerformanceTrak has now become a staple of reporting data for rounds of golf and recently the analysis of rounds per day when weather is factored in showed an increase in play. Please make sure you report your rounds and revenues.

Propourri

In early December at the CSGA Annual Meeting, it was exciting to hear that former Wee Burn legend, Roy Pace was the latest honoree as an inductee into the CSGA Golf Hall of Fame. The former tour-player and assistant to Mike Krak before taking over at Wee Burn, Pace had been honored by the Met PGA as a Teacher of the Year, Bill Strausbaugh Award recipient and with our highest honor, the 1987 Metropolitan PGA Professional of the Year. Rod Loesch, a former Pace assistant, introduced the guest of honor..... Former Met Section Professional Dave Alvarez has forwarded to us a flyer (click here) for a Spring Pro-Am at WE-KO-PA Golf Resort & Casino, April 6-9, 2015 15 minutes from Scottsdale, AZ..... US Kids will be conducting a Certified Coach Seminar at Forsgate in New Jersey on April 16th. For those in Florida during the winter, they also offer a program at St. Lucie Trail Golf Club on Feb. 23rd. Call 888 387-5437 for more information.
